

ROOSEVELT IMPROVING AT MERCY HOSPITAL

WOUND MORE SERIOUS THAN AT FIRST BELIEVED BUT PATIENTS CONDITION IS SATISFACTORY

Physicians Order Ten Days of Rest and Quiet Which May Make End Of Colonel's Campaign Speaking—Spends Much Time Reading And Maintains He Will Start For Oyster Bay Sunday—Sick Room Incidents Are Told

Bulletin.
Chicago, Oct. 16.—Col. Roosevelt awoke soon after 2 o'clock and his clinical record was taken. His pulse had fallen to 80 and was not far above normal. His temperature remained stationary at 98.8 and his respiration was 18. He felt weaker, and switched on his light and began to read.

Bulletin.
Mercy Hospital, Chicago, Oct. 15.—At midnight Colonel Roosevelt was soundly sleeping and was expected to sleep until morning. Dr. John F. Golden, assistant surgeon of the hospital, and Dr. J. B. Murphy, chief assistant in charge of the case, took a look at the patient and reported that there was no prospect of change in the colonel's condition during the night.

"He will sleep until morning. He is all right," said Dr. Golden.

Bulletin.
Mercy Hospital, Chicago, Oct. 15.—Col. Roosevelt told his nurse tonight that he picked up his book for a second spell of reading about 11 o'clock, that he was going home to Oyster Bay on Sunday. He ordered his breakfast for 7 o'clock and said: "Mind, I want a good one. I'll be hungry."

He gave directions about his clothes and his room to have everything in readiness to see Mrs. Roosevelt in the morning. The colonel is eager to see Mrs. Roosevelt, the nurse said. "He talks about it quite a lot and is very particular about having everything ready to be pleasant for her."

Bulletin.
Mercy Hospital, Chicago, Oct. 15.—After having had several short naps, Col. Roosevelt awakened at 10:30 p. m. and called for hot water to shave himself. He sat up in bed with a hand mirror against his knees and shaved and then was given a sponge bath and alcohol rub down by his nurse. After the bath his clinical record was taken. Temperature, 98.3; pulse, 88. He turned on his night light and began to read again, saying that he would do so until he got sleepy.

Bulletin.
Chicago, Oct. 15.—Colonel Roosevelt laid aside his book a few minutes after nine and switched off his reading light. He was soon fast asleep. Dr. Murphy went into the colonel's room at 9:30 and found him sound asleep.

The patient's pulse was 86 when taken before he dropped to sleep. This is two points higher than it was last night after the shooting and four above normal. His temperature was three-fifths of a degree above normal.

Bulletin.
Chicago, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth arrived in Chicago from Cincinnati at 6:46 p. m. and hurried to the bedside of her father, Colonel Roosevelt at Mercy Hospital. She traveled alone and was met at the railway station by Mrs. McNeill McCormick and George F. Porter, assistant treasurer of the Progressive party, who accompanied her to the hospital.

ASBURY CHURCH NOTES.
Rev. Arthur F. Ewert preached Sunday afternoon at Asbury church in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Hy S. Aikine. Next Sunday night a series of revival services will be started at Asbury and on Thursday the regular monthly birthday social of the church will take place at the home of A. B. Green.

BROOKLYN CHURCH NOTES.
The Brooklyn church choir gave two splendid numbers Sunday and repeated them on Sunday night much to the delight of the audience. Miss Stella Shuff and Miss Sue Fox will give an entertainment at the church Friday night and the chorus of the church will give a selection.

Bulletin.
Mercy Hospital, Chicago, Oct. 16.—Col. Roosevelt was sleeping so soundly at 2 a. m. that his nurse did not rouse him to take his temperature. His condition was apparently approximately normal.

Bulletin.
Mercy Hospital, Chicago, Oct. 16.—Col. Roosevelt's temperature at 12:45 reached at 98.8. His pulse, however, had dropped two points nearer normal to 84, and his respiration was 18. He was sleeping soundly and had not stirred. The hospital corridors were in darkness except for a dim light where a policeman sat on guard outside the colonel's door and a ray from a reading light, where the night nurse was keeping watch in the room next to him.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Former President Roosevelt was resting easy tonight and his physician said after a nervous strain that they were pleased with his condition the clinical record showed. However, his condition was hardly as favorable as when he entered the hospital this morning. On his arrival from Milwaukee, his pulse at 10 o'clock was 86, or 14 counts above normal and two counts above the record two hours after he was shot. His temperature was 99.2, or three-fifths of a degree above normal. It was believed the night would indicate whether the wound would heal normally.

Murphy's Statement.
Dr. John B. Murphy who is in charge of the case left the hospital before 10 o'clock for the night. "Col. Roosevelt is resting quietly," he said. He had taken a small dinner. There was less distress in his breathing.

All the attending physicians left the hospital for the night except Dr. Terrell who spent the night in an adjoining room. It was said that no further examinations of the wound would be made until 8 o'clock.

Tetanus anti-toxine was ejected into the colonel's abdomen a short time before he went to sleep. A rise in temperature followed together with slight local irritation. Otherwise the colonel exhibited no symptoms from the anti-toxine, although the surgeons were prepared for the slight nausea which sometimes follow the treatment. The sixteenth of a degree of temperature it is said was not caused by the condition of the wound as up to the time of the injection the patient's temperature was practically normal.

The increase in the rate of the pulse is not at present accounted for. Colonel Roosevelt's temperature was materially changed after his dose and sponge bath which was given him at 10:30. His pulse then registered two counts higher but this is not considered an especially significant symptom in a man of his sanguine temperament. His temperature came down from 99.2 to 98.8, two-tenths of a degree above normal.

Colonel's Pulse Near Normal.
Colonel Roosevelt's temperature was materially changed after his dose and sponge bath which was given him at 10:30. His pulse then registered two counts higher but this is not considered an especially significant symptom in a man of his sanguine temperament. His temperature came down from 99.2 to 98.8, two-tenths of a degree above normal.

Not Superficial Wound.
Theodore Roosevelt was not merely superficially wounded by the bullet fired in his breast yesterday. In Milwaukee, by John Schrank, it was determined by night by surgeons after an all-day examination and consultation; and the colonel must not see or speak to anyone for several days without permission of the physicians.

The wound was definitely described to night as a "serious wound in the chest" and "not a mere flesh wound."

The late bulletin which prohibited communication between the colonel and others than his attendants declared that "quietude is absolutely essential."

Will Not Probe for Bullet.
The physicians asserted, however, that it was not now necessary to probe for, or remove the bullet. Even this action was thought undesirable, and the patient probably will be kept as calm as his nature will allow for a few days.

The patient slept well at intervals during the day, ate ravenously of the articles customary making up his bill-of-fare, read lengthy extracts from Macaulay and a novel and hinted to his physician that he would not object to a ride out in the fresh air.

Finally learning that the correspondents accompanying him on his speaking tour, who had left him after the assault in Milwaukee to file their articles had rejoined his entourage at the hospital, Col. Roosevelt insisted that the edict of his physicians against communication with him be ignored for the time.

ROOSEVELT A MAN WITHOUT A FEAR

HAS THEORY THAT A LEADER MUST ALWAYS BE READY TO MEET FATE.

Colonel in Habit of Going About Unarmed and Unattended—Is Skilled in Art of Self Defense—Learned Athletic Ricks From Cow Boys and Has Mastered Art of Jiu Jitsu.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Although he realized fully the danger of an attempt at assassination to which he was exposed, Col. Roosevelt gave little heed to his personal safety, and seldom had the pain of a body guard after he left the white house. He relied almost entirely upon his own strength and agility to defend himself.

Col. Roosevelt was asked recently whether he took any precautions to defend himself. He replied that he never worried about his own safety. "When a man I do not know comes up," he said, "I take one quick look at his hands. If both his hands are in sight and empty I think no more about it. If a man attempted to draw a weapon—well, I'm pretty quick myself."

Colonel Roosevelt has a philosophy of his own which has in it a tinge of fatalism.

Almost a Fatalist.
"When I was in the Spanish war," he said, "if there was a charge to be made or a fort to be taken I never stopped to think of danger to myself. After the charge had been made or the fort taken I might have stopped to think that I had a close call, but that was all."

It was the same way, he explained, in his other affairs. He often gave a hint of his views in his speeches, saying that a leader in public life should serve to spend and be spent, and that whatever fate befell him he should not complain if he were broken or cast aside.

He cared "not a rap," he said what fate befell him. Col. Roosevelt's experience in defending himself was demonstrated by the manner in which he disposed of a man who rushed at him through a crowd in Fargo, N. D. two years ago. As the man lunged at him, Col. Roosevelt shot out both hands and grasped the man's right arm with a vice-like grip, making it impossible for him to draw a weapon. In a flash he whirled the man about and pushed him back off the platform.

Has Tricks of Self Defense.
"That was a trick I learned in the cow country," he said. The ex-president also knows something of jiu jitsu, and considered himself well able to handle an adversary who got within reach. He realized, however, that his ability in this direction was no protection from the attack of a man in the crowd which he appears constantly around him when he appears in public. Friends of Colonel Roosevelt were constantly in fear of some such catastrophe as that of last night, especially during the heat of a political campaign, but the colonel himself laughed at their fears. He would have no guards with him on his trips and although in the large towns and cities detachments of police were usually assigned for his protection at other times on his journeys no such precautions were taken.

On his private car during his present trip, aside from his secretaries and Dr. Terrell, his physician, were Col. Cecil Lyon of Texas and Phillip Roosevelt, a young cousin, one or both of whom always accompanied the ex-president on the watch for any sign of danger. During Colonel Roosevelt's primary campaign in the spring Col. Roosevelt took with him R. G. Post, former governor of Porto Rico and Travers C. Carmen of New York, former football player, who always rode on the running boards of the colonel's automobile, or cleared the way for him through a crowd when they were walking, but during the present campaign Col. Roosevelt dispensed with this form of protection.

Walks Unattended.
When he is at home Col. Roosevelt is accustomed to ride or walk with perfect freedom over the countryside and through the woods about Sagamore Hill, frequently walking ten or fifteen miles unattended. Not once during his years at Sagamore Hill has an attempt at his life been made, although during his term as president a report to the effect that he had been shot at was circulated. When he is at home Col. Roosevelt invariably spends a large part of each day at outdoor exercise, keeping himself in trim physically as though he were an athlete. Despite the fact that he has been engaged in one of his hardest campaigns for several weeks, the colonel was in the best of condition, except for a "campaign throat" when he was struck down last night, and showed no signs of weakness. It is his custom to spend two hours each morning on horse back and in the afternoon to play tennis, chop down trees and in summer go into the hay field. Col. Roosevelt never has used tobacco, seldom takes alcoholic drinks and always insists upon having eight hours' sleep each night. His mode of life, the physicians believe, will play a large part in helping him in the present emergency.

WAR BETWEEN ITALY AND TURKEY IS ENDED

PROTOCOL OF PEACE TREATY WAS SIGNED IN SWITZERLAND.

Agreement Between Nations Reached After Months of Diplomatic Sparring Over Terms—Italy to Have Absolute Sovereignty in Libya—Full Terms to Be Known Later.

Chuch, Switzerland, Oct. 15.—After months of diplomatic strife for better terms, Turkey surrendered this evening and the Ottoman and Italian plenipotentiaries signed the protocol of a peace treaty which ends the war between Italy and Turkey and incidentally relieves the Ottoman empire of a crushing handicap in the forthcoming struggle in the Balkans. The precise terms will not be available until a definite treaty is signed at end of the week probably at Lausanne. Their tenor, however, is well known. The treaty will provide for absolute sovereignty of Italy in Libya without formal recognition there of Italy or Turkey free exercise of religious authority by the Khalif, Turkey to withdraw her regular troops from Libya, Italy to pay an indemnity equivalent to Libya's contributions to the Ottoman treasury, restitution of the captured islands to Turkey which guarantees for the Christian peoples no indemnity payable by either side toward the cost of the war and re-establishment of former diplomatic and commercial relations.

Days of Grace Allowed.
During the last week there has been doubt as to whether the war which has lasted for more than a year would be brought to a peaceable close. Italy's time limit for the conclusion of peace expired Oct. 12th, but on that day was granted three days grace to decide whether it should be peace or a continuance of the war. A definite understanding was reached yesterday when on the arrival of a special message from Constantinople, a conference between the delegates representing the two countries was held.

Italy declared war against Turkey on Sept. 29th, 1911, and promptly invaded Tripoli. A blockade of the coast of Tripoli and Cyrenaica began by the Italian fleet. Various coast towns were bombarded and in a naval battle many of the Turkish ships were crippled. Severe engagements have occurred between the Italian troops and the Turks and their Arab allies with large losses on both sides. The coast is now held by Italy while the Turks and Arabs occupy the interior.

New Idea on Old Theme Suggested by Champ Clark—Speaker Expresses Regret for Attack Made on Roosevelt.

Burlington, Iowa, Oct. 15.—Speaker Champ Clark received an enthusiastic greeting here to night when he spoke to an audience that packed the Grand Opera house, referring to Roosevelt, Clark said: "It is a matter of very great regret to me that Theodore Roosevelt was the victim of a madman's bullet. It is a relief to know that he is in no serious condition."

"I deplore the act. Every right minded citizen of this country will feel as I do about it and the general feeling is that Theodore Roosevelt is the victim of a madman's bullet. It is a relief to know that he is in no serious condition."

HONEST MEN AGREE ON MORAL ISSUES

KNOX BARS SOME QUESTIONS FROM CAMPAIGN INFLUENCE.

Secretary of State Makes Speech in Behalf of Taft at Portland—Conditions are Steadily Adjusting Themselves in America—Emphasizes Value of Taft's Course in Mexican Affairs.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 15.—Secretary of State Knox, addressed a Republican meeting here tonight in behalf of President Taft. Secretary Knox said that no honest man differs from another as to such moral issues as honesty in public life, rebuke of bossism, equality of opportunity, repression of corporations, control of irresponsible and conscienceless wealth and corrupt alliance between business and politics. He said that men's minds are becoming thoroughly awakened to the fact that rights of property for centuries have been over emphasized in comparison with the rights of the individual man, and added that that is being rapidly changed throughout the world "and nowhere more rapidly and radically than in this country."

Should Avoid Excess.
"But," he continued, "this past excess of tenderness towards property is no reason why we should suddenly and violently shift to the opposite excess. We have been steadily readjusting the center of gravity since the beginning of this nation and have made great progress to the just equilibrium. Meanwhile and notwithstanding the impatience and unreasonable pessimism of some, we continue to receive the blessings of providence without stint. Farm mortgages are fast disappearing, land values are rising, crops are abundant and prices good."

Reference was made to the increased importance of the United States in international affairs, to the foreign policy of the Taft administration.

Mentions Mexican Situation.
Then Mr. Knox alluded briefly to the situation in Mexico, calling attention to the revolutions and counter-revolutions and other aggravating conditions there for the last year, invited attention to President Taft's course in the matter and said: "We are fortunate to have, in a situation so fraught with dangers, a president so calm in his judgment, and so inflexible in his purpose. I cannot believe that high grade American labor and wide-awake business men will shut their eyes to these realities and will prefer strong words to quiet courageous and effective deeds."

Mr. Knox closed with an appeal to Republicans to forget their differences and present an unbroken front to their antagonists.

WILSON CANCEL'S SPEAKING DATES

Does Not Desire to be Only Presidential Candidate Waging Active Campaign.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 15.—Governor Woodrow Wilson late tonight announced that he would cancel all speaking engagements with the exception of those arranged for Thursday and Friday of this week until Colonel Roosevelt is able to take an active part in the campaign. The governor will speak in Delaware, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, this week, concluding his campaign in Pittsburgh Friday night.

"I cannot cancel the engagements which are immediately ahead of me," said Governor Wilson in a statement issued tonight, "without subjecting those who have arranged them to a very serious embarrassment and great unnecessary expense, but I shall cut the series at the earliest possible point."

"Mr. Taft has at no time taken an active part in the campaign and I have no desire to be the only candidate on the stump against no active antagonists."

Governor Wilson was asked if his active speech-making would end on his return next Saturday from Delaware, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. "Yes," he said, "I have asked my managers to arrange to cancel the engagements in New York and Brooklyn for next Saturday night."

JOHNSON AT CANTON.
Canton, O., Oct. 15.—In the home city of the late Wm. McKinley tonight Governor Johnson stood on a platform and drew a picture of the martyred president and pleaded with Progressives to redouble their efforts in behalf of the new party in the political battle. When Colonel Roosevelt's name was mentioned the great crowd rose and cheered wildly. Several times thereafter the governor referred to criticism of which Roosevelt has been subjected during his public career and each time the hall rang with applause and shouts for the former president.

MRS. WILSON SENDS MESSAGE.
Princeton, N. J., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson tonight sent to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt at the Mercy Hospital in Chicago this message: "My heartfelt sympathy in your anxiety and distress. Mr. Wilson and I have been shocked beyond expression and await each item of news with deep solicitude."

SCHRANK'S CONFESSION IS TOLD IN DETAIL

POLICE OF MILWAUKEE MAKE PUBLIC STATEMENT GIVEN BY ROOSEVELT'S ASSAILANT

Fanatic Says He Feared Roosevelt's Friends Would Start Civil War If He Is Not Elected—Prosecutor Zabel Will Have Trial After November Fifth—Schranks Papers Show He Is A Bavarian By Birth

Milwaukee, Oct. 15.—The police tonight completed the work of transcribing the confession of John Schrank, given to Chief of Police Janssen last night. The detailed confession is as follows:

Q. "What object did you have in following around and trying to meet Theodore Roosevelt?"
A. "Well, because I have been reading history and following up history, and I have seen that this man Roosevelt is trying to break one of the old time established traditions of the country, calling it a third-term, which he has no right to do. He can create a third party, and create all the offices, but to nominate himself and I think that it is absolutely unnecessary to establish now and have the third term tradition to exist and not be violated by anybody."

Q. "Well what did you have in mind to do when you went around in these different places?"

A. "I had in mind to meet him, and he escaped me every time. He escaped me in Atlanta and Chattanooga."

Q. "He escaped what?"
A. "He has not come the way I expected, he did not come out the way I expected. If he goes in a hall today and speaks in a hall and he came in this way or that, he goes out a different way and the man got away."

Q. "What did he escape from?"
A. "From the places I wanted to meet him."

Q. "Why did you want to meet him?"

A. "Because I wanted to put him out of the way; a man that wants a third term has no right to live."
Q. "That is, you wanted to kill him?"
A. "I did."

Q. "Have you any other reason in wanting to kill him?"
A. "I have."

Tells of Dream
Q. "What is that?"

A. "I had a dream several years ago in which Mr. McKinley appeared to me, and he told me that Mr. Roosevelt was practically his real murderer and not Czolgosz, or whatever his name was. Mr. Roosevelt is practically the man that has been the real murderer of President McKinley in order to get the presidency of the United States, because the way things were that time he was not supposed to be president, all the leaders did not want him; that's the reason they gave him the vice-presidency, which is political suicide—that's what I am sore about, to think Mr. McKinley appeared to me in a dream and said: 'This is my murderer and nobody else.'"

Told No One Intentions.
Schranks said he had spoken to no one in New York about his intentions and that he made a phis mind himself. He said he owned property in New York valued at $25,000. He never knew Czolgosz nor John Most, nor Emma Goldman. He declared: "I am not an anarchist or Socialist, or Democrat, or Republican. I just took a phis thing I thought it was best to do."

Q. "You are not a member of any party?"
A. "No sir; I thought there should be an example of the third term if it should exist any longer. Mr. Grant has refused and he was satisfied. This man says he is the vice-president, which is political suicide. He keeps on doing this after election—that's a civil war, because he will say 'the scoundrels and thieves and crooks stole my nomination, and now they will steal my election.' And they will take up arms in all the western states. We are facing a civil war just to keep him in a third term in an illegitimate place."

Read of Stolen Nomination.
Q. "Where did you get all this 'idea from'?"

A. "I have been reading history in history that they stole his nomination and are going to steal his nomination, and are going to steal his election."

A. "I don't have to read that in history. You must know in the Chicago convention it was in every paper; everybody could read."

Q. "You read it in the paper then?"
A. "He says it every time he speaks."

Sorry He Shot.
Just before he went to bed to night Schrank expressed the first words of regret that he has uttered since the shooting.

"I'm sorry I shot," said Schrank as a deputy sheriff was locking him up for the night.

Then Schrank dropped down on his cot, and within half an hour was sleeping.

The men who are watching Schrank were surprised by two things—that the prisoner at no time asked to see a newspaper and that he made no inquiry whatever regarding Col. Roosevelt's condition. So far as the jail attaches knew, Schrank to night was not informed as to whether Col. Roosevelt was dead or alive. He had exhibited no curiosity on this point. This remark was not made in reply to any interrogation from the deputy, but was repeated several times, apparently in soliloquy.

Prof. Summer to night declared that it would be impossible to determine before tomorrow noon whether or not the bullet fired into Col. Roosevelt had been treated with poison.

Schranks Not a Socialist.
In response to repeated questions from State's Attorney Zabel and Sheriff Arnold, Schrank declared that at no time had he been a Socialist or a follower of Socialistic theories. The prisoner said, according to the sheriff and state's attorney, that he had voted the Republican and Democratic tickets at various times. That he was an independent.

"Never have I been a particular friend of any one political party," said Schrank. To night State's Attorney Zabel made a statement in which he asserted that there existed no grounds for reports that Schrank was or had been a Socialistic lecturer. He said the man is uninformed on Socialism.

"I am afraid," Mr. Zabel said, "that because this shooting happened in Milwaukee, instead of Chicago or any other of a dozen cities, that many people will, unthinkingly, jump to the conclusion that it was the outgrowth or indirect of the Socialistic propaganda."

"Nothing could be further from the truth. This man knew no one in Milwaukee and as far as we can ascertain is unfamiliar with any of the active or leading Socialists in New York."

"This unfortunate crime cannot, justly, be laid at the door of the Socialists, or any one political party. This is certain."

Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 15.—States Attorney Winifred C. Zabel of Milwaukee county, late today definitely announced that John Schrank, Col. Roosevelt's assailant, would not be brought to trial until after the national election, November 5. He said the trial would be opened some time between November 11th and 15th.

Mr. Zabel, who is said to be the only Socialist states attorney in the country, gave three specific reasons for his decision to put off the trial for one month. He said, first, that it was only reasonable to await the results of Colonel Roosevelt's injury before placing Schrank on trial; second, he said he had no desire to unduly crowd the defendant, and third gave it as his opinion that it would be unwise to call the case during the final struggle in the presidential campaign.

Avoids Entanglement.
"It is my desire to try this case justly and expeditiously," said Mr. Zabel, "and this will be done, but we wish to avoid having the plain criminal aspects of the case in any way involved in the national political situation. It would not be fair to any of the people involved to do so. If we went to trial before election day it is almost certain that the matter in one way or another would be dragged into the campaign by one or another of the big political parties."

Taking up a discussion of the case as viewed by him, the Milwaukee county prosecutor declared that as far as public indications went, Schrank was sane.

"If Schrank is insane," said Mr. Zabel, "it seems that there is method in his madness when he selects for the scene of his crime a state where there is no capital punishment."

"Also I am informed in messages from New York there has been no insanity in Schrank's family as far as can be traced. In addition, the man presents none of usual surface indications of insanity."

Believes He Had no Accomplices.
The states attorney said that he believed Schrank had no accomplices or advisors in the crime and that the shooting of Colonel

WAS BRILLANT CHURCH WEDDING

MISS HARRIET C. PARSONS BECOMES AN OCTOBER BRIDE.

Was Married to Mr. Harrison W. King in Impressive Ceremony at Trinity Episcopal Church—Elaborate Reception Held at Parsons Home.

The marriage of Miss Harriet C. Parsons to Mr. Harrison W. King was solemnized Tuesday evening at Trinity Episcopal church at 8 o'clock. The ceremony was said by Arch Deacon H. M. Chittenden of Alton, Ill., an uncle of the bride, assisted by Rev. H. H. Mitchell, rector of Trinity church. Mr. Horace H. Bancroft was master of ceremonies and Mrs. H. H. Bancroft was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Jeanette Russell and Miss Margaret Brown. The ushers were Mr. George Orear, Richard Rowe and Mr. Marcy Osborne; the flower children, Mary Louise Frackelton and Frances Waddell; the ring bearer, Elizabeth Frackelton. A musical program preceded the ceremony and after the marriage the bride and groom entered the vestry and signed the parish register. An elaborate reception was held later in the evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Parsons, 1136 West State street.

The wedding was one of the brilliant social events of the fall season and all the appointments were such as to make it beautiful in detail. The church was attractively decorated with oak leaves and smilax. Two floral arches, formed the decorations at the front of the church, at the bases of which were profusions of white chrysanthemums and these flowers were also placed at the chancel. Pink roses were artistically placed at the altar.

Preceding the ceremony a musical program was given by the vested church choir, with J. Philip Read as organist. The following was the program: Hymn, "Reliance"; "Chorus in D," Henry M. Dunham; Berceuse, "J. Philip Read"; Jubilate Deo, "Alfred J. Silver"; Evensong, "Edward J. Johnston"; Hymn, "Oh, Perfect Love"; Bridal chorus, sung by choir; "Oh, Promise Me"; Recessional, Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Entrance of Bridal Party. The bridal party entered the church along the east aisle, as the choir sang the bridal chorus of Lohengrin. The first to appear were the flower children, Mary Louise Frackelton and Frances Waddell. They wore dainty white lingerie dresses with pink ribbons and carried baskets of flowers. Next came Mr. Richard Rowe and Mr. Marcy Osborne and these were followed by Mr. H. H. Bancroft and Mr. George Orear. The bridesmaids, Miss Jeanette Russell and Miss Margaret Brown, wore gowns of brocade satin charmeuse, trimmed in shadow lace, with draperies caught up with little wreaths of pink roses. They wore pink demi-tulle veils and carried bouquets of pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

The matron of honor, Mrs. H. H. Bancroft, a sister of the groom, was beautifully dressed in a gown of white charmeuse, with overdraped embroidered chiffon. She carried a shower bouquet of pink Kilmarnock roses. Little Elizabeth Frackelton, as ring bearer, preceded the bride. She was dressed in a dainty white costume and carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

The bride wore a gown of white brocade charmeuse, draped, with brocade trimmed in old gold de Venise lace and pearls. She wore a tulle veil caught up with orange blossoms and Venise lace. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and a prayer book, a gift of her uncle, Rev. H. Mitchell.

Sign Parish Register. The groom entered the church from the vestry, attended by his brother, Dr. Allen M. King, as best man. He met his bride at the steps leading to the altar and advanced to the chancel rail, where the vows were spoken and the blessing given. At the conclusion of the ceremony, which was very impressive in character, the bride and groom signed the parish register.

It has long been a custom in the Church of England, and always adhered to in this country, that the bride and groom should sign the parish registry book immediately after the wedding ceremony and before leaving the church. This rule has recently been promulgated by the bishops of the Episcopal church in America and will hereafter be the custom in all Episcopal church weddings. It is the first time that this ordinance has been observed in Trinity parish.

While the ceremony was being said, the organist, J. Philip Read, played "Oh, Promise Me" and for the recessional, which was made by the west aisle, Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. A. Parsons and is a young woman of attractive personality. She is a graduate of Rogers Hall school of Lowell, Mass., and three years later, graduated from the Chicago Kindergarten Institution. For three years she has been a teacher in the public schools. She is a member of the Woman's club, the History class and of Trinity Episcopal church and has been active in the work of the parish. She is an accomplished young woman with a wide circle of admiring friends.

The groom is the second son of Mrs. W. H. King and is a member of the insurance firm of Bancroft & King of this city. He is a young man of splendid character and ability. He is a graduate of the local high school and supplemented his course here with two years' study in the University of Illinois. For five years he was employed as a civil engineer for the late Charles W. Brown. He is a member of the Elks, Phi Delta Theta fraternity and of State Street Presbyterian church.

Conservation

There's lot of talk these days about conserving the forests and other national resources and it's important talk, too. That's a national interest. But the question that has a more personal interest is that of conserving one's own resources.

USING GOOD MATERIALS

One sure way of private "conservation" is to use the best materials when you build. Using the best in Jax means building with our lumber. There is something individual about Crawford lumber. Every piece has been selected with care and will stand the severe test of time.

Crawford Lumber Co.

Following the ceremonies at the church a handsome reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Parsons, 1136 West State street. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion. The banister in the hall was banked with asparagus and in the living room roses and yellow flowers were used. Southern smilax and flowers were found in the reception room, while in the dining room pink was the prevailing color, by the use of beautiful roses.

In the receiving line were Mrs. J. A. Parsons, Mrs. W. H. King, Rev. H. M. Chittenden, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison W. King, and the other members of the wedding party.

The dining room table looked exquisite with the soft lighted candelabra on the four corners. In the center was the rich wedding cake, on which were the letters "P-K." The cutting of the cake afforded much merriment and the following received the articles it contained: Miss Jeanette Russell, the ring; Mrs. Harrison King, the key; Mrs. Kenneth McKenzie of Chicago, the thimble; Mrs. H. I. Bancroft, the dime; Dr. Allen King, the darning needle. A splendid wedding supper was served with Vickery & Merriam as the caterers.

Mr. and Mrs. King received many beautiful and handsome presents. They left this morning over the Washington at 1:48 and will take a wedding trip through the south. They will visit Chattanooga, Nashville and stay for a while in Asheville, N. C. On their return trip they will visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Ray Newcomb at Indianapolis, Ind., and from there will go to Chicago. Upon their return to Jacksonville they will reside at 140 Pine street, where they will be at home to their friends after January 1.

Among the guests present from out of the city were Miss C. F. Allen of Bangor, Me.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Goltra, St. Louis; Mrs. Kenneth McKenzie, Chicago; Miss Neil Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. D. Leavitt Clark, of New Berlin; Rev. H. M. Chittenden, Alton, Mo.; and Mrs. Ora Rexroat, Liberty; Mrs. Ben Matthews, Pittsfield; Mr. and Mrs. John Crocker, Maroa; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bent, Oglesby; Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Frackelton, Petersburg; and the Misses Kellogg of Tremont, Ill.

GIBBONS SORROWS FOR SCHRANK'S ACT

Cardinal Expresses Horror Over Attempted Killing of Roosevelt—Says Attack is a Disgrace to America.

Baltimore, Oct. 15.—Cardinal Gibbons and Cardinal Farley of New York today expressed their deep regret and horror at the attempted assassination of Colonel Roosevelt.

Cardinal Gibbons said: "It is a shame; it is humiliating for the people of this country that such a state of affairs should exist as to bring about such attacks. It makes us feel as if we are lowering ourselves in the eyes of the world. It is about time that a stop be put to such conditions. America cannot afford to stand disgraced as she will stand disgraced if such sad and wretched manifestations of the insecurity of human life continue to exist. I sincerely hope that Mr. Roosevelt will recover."

LETTERS READ IN DYNAMITE TRIAL

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 15.—Records which the government charges will show that the explosions against employers of non-union workmen preceding and following the Los Angeles disaster resulted from a strike called against a bridge construction company in 1905, were identified by witnesses at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. Witnesses identified among others, letters written by McNamara to powder companies asking them for catalogs.

MRS. LONGWORTH GRATEFUL FOR MARTIN'S ACT.

Colonel's Daughter Expresses Gratitude to Man Who Overpowered Her Father's Assailant.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, soon after her arrival, met Elbert E. Martin, who saved her father from further attack by the Milwaukee assailant, and warmly thanked him for his effort. She asked calmly that he tell her just how it happened.

She listened attentively as he described in detail the positions of the principals in the attempt at assassination, and what each did.

"It was a very wonderful thing to do," she complimented Martin. "Just wonderful; I am very proud of you. You couldn't have had much time to decide, and you took a great risk in doing what you did. I am as grateful to you as one possibly can be."

Martin blushing displayed the torn and perforated manuscript and spectacles which helped to lessen the force of the bullet and disclaimed any heroism, but the daughter of the ex-president would not have it so.

She examined the exhibits carefully and noted that the colonel's spectacles had not been damaged, the bullet missing the lenses entirely.

MRS. ROOSEVELT ON WAY TO CHICAGO

New York, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., Miss Ethel Roosevelt and Dr. Alexander Lambert, the Roosevelt family physician, left New York for Chicago on the Twentieth Century Limited at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

On the same train were George C. Priestly, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Progressive party, and Richard R. Quay of Pennsylvania.

Dr. Lambert explained that he was going at the request of Mrs. Roosevelt and not because he thought the colonel's condition was serious.

Italians Burned Home at Danville With Intention of securing Insurance Money.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 15.—Sam Portuese, one of the four Italians recently arrested on suspicion of having caused the explosion and fire that destroyed a house they lived in today confessed that he and Jim Misuraco, also under arrest caused it. He said Misuraco poured gasoline over the floor and walls. The two then went outside, tied a piece of paper to a pole, set it afire and thrust it through a window where it would quickly reach a point saturated with oil. They then ran to a place of safety and watched the explosion and fire that followed. Their object was to secure the insurance on the place.

OFFICERS RECOVER PURSE.

Find Bill Book Containing Passes and Drafts and Assist in Arrest of Man Alleged to be a Pickpocket.
Officers McGinnis and Moor recovered a purse containing some valuable papers and which is the property of James Paddock, secretary of the Illinois state senate, while making their rounds at the Wabash station early Tuesday morning. While at the station they noticed a negro sitting in the waiting room asleep and when the 1:48 train for Springfield came in one of the officers awakened the man, who rushed out and boarded the train before it pulled out.
In looking through the waiting room after the train had left the officers found a large bill book lying in the seat where the negro had been sitting and on examining it found that it contained thirty railroad passes, two drafts for $100 each and a number of papers, which showed that the purse was the property of Mr. Paddock. They reported the matter at the station and Captain Trahey telephoned to the Springfield police, telling them to take the negro when he arrived in Springfield. When the man was taken to the Springfield station the officers found $55 in his shoe.

In looking up the matter Tuesday Chief Davis found that the man had been working in this city for W. E. McClanahan and that while in this city he made a number of purchases, having a $100 bill changed at Knoles' clothing store. It was reported that the man told McClanahan that he did not have any money just before leaving this city, and McClanahan paid him $2. Mr. Paddock was notified of the find and will come to this city today.

SCHRANK'S CONFESSION

Roosevelt undoubtedly was the outgrowth of individual plans. The plea of guilty filed by Schrank at his preliminary hearing before Judge N. B. Noelen in the district court today is looked upon as merely perfunctory by the public prosecutor's office.

"I shall permit Schrank to withdraw that plea of guilty when he goes on trial if he so desires," said Mr. Zabel. "In other words this case will be tried in exactly the same manner as any other case of like criminal gravity. But there will be no persecution of the defendant. He will be tried justly and fairly and can expect to receive the punishment merited by the crime."

No Visitors See Prisoner.

Schrank spent a quiet afternoon and evening in his cell at the county jail where he had been taken after his arraignment this morning. At the prisoner's request Sheriff Wm. A. Arnold, of Milwaukee county refused to let any one into the cell-house to see Schrank.

Governor Francis McGovern, who was in Green Bay, today, and Assistant Attorney General Russell Jackson at Made Madison, both asserted that they were satisfied with the manner in which the authorities were handling the case and said they would offer no suggestions unless called upon to do so. Much interest centered in the chemical tests on the remaining bullets from Schrank's revolver which were started this afternoon by Prof. Summer of Marquette university to determine if the bullet had been poisoned. Prof. Summer said that the results of the tests could not be known exactly for some time.

Says Bullets Were Not Poisoned.
Schrank when questioned on this point denied emphatically that he had used poisoned bullets and asserted with a confident air that the chemical tests would reveal nothing of this nature. Milwaukee was reached last night after the shooting in front of the Gilpatrick hotel. Although expressions of deep regret for the occurrence and of solicited inquiry as to Colonel Roosevelt's condition were heard everywhere there was little talk of possible violence against the former president's would-be assassin.

Chief of Police Janssen and Sheriff Arnold said they expected no trouble of any sort, although hotel lobbies, theaters and other meeting points were frequented by numerous detectives tonight.

Schrank at Bavarian.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 15.—"Down with Roosevelt, we want no king," is the sentiment expressed in notes found in the grip left by John Schrank, Col. Roosevelt's assassin, at the Mosely House in this city, where he stayed from September 23 to the 25th.

The grip contained many pieces of manuscript, presumably written by Schrank denouncing Roosevelt. It also contained Schrank's naturalization papers, showing he was a Bavarian. Other articles found include a box of 38-calibre pistol cartridges, a box which had contained a pistol of the same calibre and a razor. Schrank came to Charleston by boat from New York. Col Roosevelt had been invited to attend the National Great Council of the Improved Order of Redmen in this city, but declined. Schrank left Charleston for New Orleans. The grip and its contents will be sent to Milwaukee authorities tomorrow.

SCHRANK'S SWEETHEART DIED IN SLOCUM DISASTER.

More Than One Man Who Witnessed Those Dreadful Scenes Lost His Reason.

New York, Oct. 15.—Eight years ago Schrank's name appeared in the papers here in connection quite different from that in which it figures to day. At the headquarters of the General Slocum Survivors' association he was recalled as the youth, who, on June 16, 1904, identified the body of his sweetheart, Emily Zeigler, who was one of the thousand or more who died when the steamer was burned in the East river. More than one man lost his mind after witnessing the dreadful scenes that followed this disaster.

Schrank's sweetheart, a 17 year old German girl, lived in the tenement house where Schrank had his on the sick list the past week.

bachelor lodging. Detectives from police headquarters went to Schrank's former lodging house this afternoon and took possession of minor effects he had left behind him.

GRACE BROTHERHOOD BANQUETS.

The Brotherhood of Grace M. E. church held its regular meeting Tuesday evening with about forty members present. The meeting was presided over by the president, Thomas Hopper, and an excellent oyster supper, including all of the trimmings, was served. At the meeting a committee was appointed to sell the tickets for Bishop McDowell's lecture and at the meeting $60 worth of tickets was disposed of.

MAY CONVOKE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The French premier, Raymond Poincaré, today suggested to Germany the advisability of convoking a conference of European powers in connection with the Balkan situation. The German government puts itself with M. Poincaré's intentions, regarding it as an attempt to continue the co-operation of the powers but doubts whether the time is opportune. This doubt is reciprocated in Paris and the discussions on the subject continue.

He received the newspapermen with an apology for not arising, jested with them about his condition and told them "I'll hurry up and get out of here so I can keep you busy again."

May Be Prisoner for Ten Days.

His doctors, however, did not feel inclined to day to allow him to leave inside of ten days so that they might have no break in their minute-by-minute watch for possible infection from the bullet. Unofficially it was made known to day that the physicians do not consider it necessary to probe for or operate to remove the bullet. It lies, as shown by the X-ray photographs brought from Milwaukee by Dr. J. D. Janssen and corroborated by others taken in Mercy hospital, not far from the chest bone on the right side and probably five inches below the collar bone. The missile did not get inside the ribs, but ploughed upward and inward for a distance of some five inches from where it entered. The flesh along the course of the bullet showed no discoloration to day and there appeared to the physicians no cause for concern from any feature of the assault now past.

Col. Roosevelt, anxious that his friends and members of his family, who were enroute to Chicago, should not be unduly apprehensive at his condition, protested against the edict barring callers from his room, but acceded when all the consulting physicians endorsed the plan.

Anxious to See Family.

He was anxious to greet members of his family. The first he saw was his daughter, Mrs. Alice Longworth, who arrived in Chicago at 6:45. His concern, all day, was not for himself, but for those he believed were likely to be too fearful of his condition.

He read all of the hundreds of telegrams that poured into the hospital and was particularly delighted with several from men of note he met while abroad.

Outside the hospital grounds, a curious crowd hung all day, asking for news from all the callers who left the institution, each was hailed as he left with an appeal for "inside information," but none was available besides the bulletins posted early in the day. So many newspapermen gathered in the office of the hospital in response to demands for their papers that they obtain fresh reports, that the house authorities finally asked them to leave, and the reporters gathered outside with the rest of the crowd.

Speaking Dates Cancelled.

All of Col. Roosevelt's speaking dates were cancelled to day, save one tomorrow night at Louisville, Ky. To that town former Senator Albert Beveridge of Indiana was sent after a conference with the candidate to day, with a message the colonel insisted be read to his friends there. No announcement regarding future plans of Roosevelt were made to day, all such action depending upon the length of time demanded of him by the physicians.

on the length of time demanded of him by the physicians.

Until the ultimatum of the doctors against callers, the corridor outside Colonel Roosevelt's room was filled with those coming or going and with those who sought to extend any aid that might be useful. After the order was issued the corridor became as quiet as on days when the roster of patients contained no name so well known as that of the colonel.

His room is on the third floor, in the southwest corner of the building and at the south end of the corridor. It is Number 314 and that next to it, 312, serves as an ante-room and consulting room.

Out in the corridor, all afternoon, watch was kept by Patrolman J. A. Tomney, and here the small band of attendants gathered, and from the discussion new light was thrown on the actual story of the assault.

Martin Saw Revolver Flash.

It was disclosed that Elbert E. Martin, the secretary, who seized the assailant, saw the pistol before the shot was fired and that the weapon was discharged just as he flung himself upon Schrenk. Powerful of build, he was forcing Schrenk's neck back until the assailant was gasping for breath. Henry Cochems, who had arisen from his seat in the automobile, shouted several times:

"Don't kill him, John; don't kill him."

Martin, wresting the revolver from Schrenk and holding the assailant in a grip fast rendering him unconscious, shouted back resentfully:

"My name's not John."

The colonel laughed at the incident and recalled it today. The patient was interested in the mottoes hanging on the wall of his room, which he inspected when he walked to and from the room in which the X-ray photograph was being taken of him. He gazed long and earnestly at a verse from Adelaide A. Proctor's "Sailor Boy" which ornamented his ante-room. It read:

"Judge not the workings of his brain.

"And of his heart thou canst not see

"What looks to thy dim eyes a stain,

"In God's pure light may only be "A scar brought from some well known field,

"Where thou wouldst only faint and yield."

Sisters passing quietly along the hallway crossed themselves and murmured prayers when passing a framed apostolic benediction signed by Pope Pius, asking divine favor on John B. Murphy, chief physician at the colonel's bedside, and "any patients he might have within these walls."

Great Mass of Flowers.

Flowers were sent in loads to the colonel's ante-room and the enjoyment the patient took in deeply inhaling the odor-laden air became lessened by the pain the exertion caused and he directed that part of the gifts be taken to the rooms of other patients which was done. Colonel Roosevelt talked little today of the assault. Most of that discussion was in jests with those who called on him. When the physicians turned back the covers of his bed to better examine his wound Colonel Roosevelt exclaimed forgetful of his condition:

"Don't lose my place, doctor, don't lose my place."

He referred to a book the physician had laid to one side which contained the essays by MacAuley had furnished him an interesting hour. He asked seriously how his wound looked, and leaned his head forward from his half-sitting posture and surveyed it himself.

"That, as it is, doesn't bother us," responded Dr. Murphy, nodding to his fellows, Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan and Dr. Terrell, who accompanied him: "it's what you do to it."

The patient raised his brows interrogatively and was informed that the doctors by way of precaution, felt that he had better see no one so that the rest would remove further any possibility of a set back. He was disappointed for a few minutes but the examination being over and a pint of butter milk having been ordered, he reached for his book and smiled.

"All right," he said.

An hour's sleep kept his good good spirits at flood tide and he said it had been the most refreshing rest he had enjoyed for a week.

Seems to Enjoy Rest.

"This'll give me a good rest anyway," he said, "and if I must stay here, I suppose I might as well make the most of it."

Colonel Roosevelt bade the last of his callers good night at 8 o'clock and prepared for a comfortable night which was to be spent in part in reading. He said he felt fine and told Dr. John F. Golden, who is keeping watch over him tonight, that unless the final injection of the tetanus antitoxine interfered, he would have the "first real comfortable evening to himself" he had enjoyed in many days.

On his bed Col. Roosevelt had piled several copies of the writings of MacAuley, several back numbers of magazines and the Bible.

Quiet Telegrams at Hospital.

His telegrams he had read and answered, leaving those coming after 8 p. m. to be answered tomorrow. With his spectacles comfortably adjusted, all his books within reach, his down pillows replaced by cushions of curled hair, he told Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, the night nurse assigned to his room, that all he wanted was within his reach and that no one need worry about him, until he began worrying for them. Within five minutes the crowds had gone and the hospital gave no indication that it housed an injured former president.

Nurse Praises Roosevelt.

"The colonel is one of the pleasantness and most tractable patients I have had in a long time," said Night Nurse Margaret Fitzgerald as she prepared to spend the night in the colonel's apartments. "He does just what he is asked to do and only seems to want to be quiet and read and think. I think he's a very kindly sort of a man from the way he tries to make himself pleasant."

GOVERNMENT NOW HAS SUB-STATION IN JACKSONVILLE.

Representatives of the Department of Agriculture Co-operate With Farmers in Effort to Secure Exact Figures—Careful System of Book-keeping is Used—Research Work Will Have Valuable Results.

O. S. Raynor and his assistant, Chas. F. Randals of St. Louis are in charge of a sub-station for the department of agriculture just located in Jacksonville. Briefly stated it is the function of this office to secure information on the cost of farm operations. The work of the office is carried on in connection with the department of farm management at Washington and co-operation with a few farmers in central Illinois. Detailed records are kept of all labor, of all receipts and expenditures on each farm. This research work has been going on for a number of years but it was not until the spring of 1912 that the government decided to put men out in the field for a period covering several years. This change was made to help the farmers and the government keep their daily accounts with absolute accuracy.

Government Office Here. Mr. Raynor and his assistant have an office now in the Dunlap-Russell & Co. bank building and when the Avers National bank building is completed will have offices there. Mr. Raynor himself will do practically all of the field work and therefore much of his time will be spent away from Jacksonville visiting the farms from which he has been securing records for several months past. These farms fourteen in number are all located in Cass, Sangamon or Menard counties. No other farms can now be added to the list but it is the intention the coming spring to offer the opportunity to a few Morgan county farmers to co-operate in the work.

Farmers Keep Daily Record. Under the plan followed out the farmers who have joined in the movement make a record each day of their operations so far as all labor, all receipts and expenditures are concerned, blanks being provided for this purpose. A blank for each day in the year is furnished and these blanks are sent in to the sub-stations where they are put on the ledger and results are compiled from time to time. Each farmer who joins in the work, does so for the period of at least a year as nothing can be shown of value in less time than that and it is highly desirable that the arrangements continue for a longer period covering a number of years, as in that way much more significant results can be obtained.

Phase of Farm Economics. As indicated above this work is a phase of farm economics and is intended as a scientific investigation on the cost of farm operations. It involves a very complete form of farm book-keeping where the farmer keeps the day book and the government representatives transfer the records to the ledger. At the end of the year the government figures on the results and will use them in connection with other figures to show the information desired. So far as any individual farm is concerned the account between the government and the farmer is entirely confidential and the figures about any individual farm are never given publicly. One great value attendant upon the work is that a great many farmers have extreme difficulty in getting an accurate account of the cost of their operation and while they live off their farms and possibly save something each year they have very little conception of what the real cost of farm operation is.

Only Another Like Station. Work of a similar nature is being carried on by various state experiment stations in co-operation with the U. S. department of agriculture. Stations of this kind are located in Missouri, Wisconsin, Ohio and Maine. Besides these the government will conduct a few independent stations on a somewhat different plan. Just now only two of such regions are being operated, one of them in western New York, and the other in Illinois, with Jacksonville as a central station. Before Jacksonville was finally chosen various parts of the state were considered and it was decided, finally, that conditions here were most favorable for the desired work. Although the office is just being opened the actual work was started last spring and some of the very best farmers in central Illinois have been co-operating with the department and the records they have kept are said to be in the best shape of any which have thus far reached the department.

Make Surveys of Farms. When any farmer has decided to accept the governments proposition and to join in the research work for his own benefit and that of the government, the men in charge of the sub-station go to the farm and take a complete inventory. Such an inventory is made at the beginning of each year. A survey of the farm is made and very accurate maps of the farm are drawn showing the acreage of each field, the location of all houses, barns and other buildings, together with all other details possible. A copy of the maps is furnished the farmer together with the blanks necessary for the records which he is to keep.

Mr. Raynor, who is in charge of the work here formerly lived in Braymer, Missouri, and he took his training in agricultural work in Missouri university, at Columbia. He is therefore well prepared for the work he has undertaken and a knowledge of farming and farm operations is absolutely necessary to him in working out details of cost in connection with the farmers. The work of the sub-station will be watched with interest by farmers and land owners in this locality and there can be no doubt but that benefits will accrue to this farming community from having the sub-station located here.

Farmers Co-operate. Farmers who are now co-operating in the work and their addresses are as follows: Homer Decker, Bluff Springs. Chas. E. Davis, Virginia. Bert Way, Virginia. Chas. W. Russell, Virginia. John W. Miles, Virginia. Howard Jolisch, Virginia. E. W. Walbaum, Ashland. J. M. Smith, Ashland. Wm. S. Raikes, Tallula. Irvin C. Woodrum, Tallula. J. Colby Beckman, Tallula. W. S. STOLE RIDE IN '93 CONFESSIONS TO ROAD

Texas Conscience Stricken, Asks for and Gets Absolution From C. & A. President.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—For being conscience stricken, J. B. Smith, of Quinlan, Texas, probably holds the record. In a letter to B. A. Worthington, president of the Chicago & Alton railroad, he admits that he owes "confession" to fourteen railroads.

He confessed to Mr. Worthington that he "beat" the Alton out of a ride of 253 miles in 1893 and believes he has obtained forgiveness from God. He asked Mr. Worthington to be equally merciful, and was assured by the railroad official that he had been granted absolution.

Smith's letter is as follows: "In 1893 I beat this company 283 miles. I feel that God has forgiven me, but I feel it my duty to ask your forgiveness. If you will, I will appreciate it. But if you will not, please let me know how much I owe you and if I ever get able I will pay it. I am due confessions to fourteen companies."

President Worthington sent the following reply:

"Referring to your letter saying that in 1893 you beat the Chicago and Alton railroad 283 miles and asking forgiveness or how much you owe us; also stating that you are due confessions to fourteen different railroad companies:

"Please give yourself no uneasiness about the matter in any way, as you may consider that you have been absolved by the president of the Chicago and Alton Railroad company of any claim we might have upon you."

"We hope that you had a pleasant ride on the 283-mile trip, even if you did not pay any fare, and let us hope that when you get started on your last trip to meet God, if you are required to ride over fourteen different railroads to get to your destination your last ride will be under as pleasant auspices as the 283 miles over the Alton in 1893."

TODAY'S GAME AT BOSTON WILL DECIDE BASEBALL HONORS

NEW YORK GIANTS CRUSH RED SOX---11 TO 4

DEFEAT BOSTON AMERICANS BY WIDE MARGIN IN SEVENTH GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES

"Smokey Joe" Wood Blows Up In First Inning And Giant Batsmen Get To Him For Six Runs And Seven Hits Before The Last New Yorker Was Put Out--Tesreau Was Puzzle To Red Sox.

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—The New York Giants, pennant winners of the National league administered a crushing defeat to the Boston Americans today by a score of 11 to 4 in the seventh game of the world's series. Tonight finds the Giants and the Red Sox waiting to engage in the final combat here tomorrow that will determine which team shall be the world's champions of 1912. The series now stands three games each won, and one tie.

"Smokey Joe" Woods, the Red Sox star pitcher, who had already beaten the Giants twice in the series, was sent out to pitch the Red Sox into the world's championship. His end was so swift and so sudden that the 30,000 spectators sat in silence at Fenway park as they saw him batted to all parts of the field and six Giant players were over the home plate before the last New Yorker was put out in the first inning. The Red Sox never recovered from that first inning and though they peppered away fitfully at Tesreau's ball they never came within threatening distance of the Giants. Manager McGraw in the coaches box down off third base directed the attack on Wood. He gave orders to hit the first ball pitched, and with few exceptions all the nine men who batted in the first inning rapped the attack on Wood. This shower of hits combined with a double steal, paved the way to New York's six runs. Thereafter Wood was a broken reed and Charley Hall, Boston's relief pitcher was sent into the box.

Some of the Giant players seemed to think Wood had broken under the strain of his two earlier games. His curve ball had little break to it and the Giants had no trouble hitting his fast ones. The Red Sox have Hugh Bennett ready to go on the firing line for the deciding game tomorrow with Wood prepared to go to his assistance while the Giants will depend on Mathewson, with Marquard held in reserve. Tesreau held the whip hand throughout today's game. His moist ball broke sharply over the plate and the Red Sox were unable to fathom his delivery when hits would have scored runs. Twelve Red Sox were left anchored on the bases.

NO EFFECT ON MARKET.

New York, Oct. 15.—The shooting of Colonel Roosevelt was utterly without effect on the stock market at the opening today, but toward the end of the session, when advices from his bedside indicated that his wound might be more serious than at first supposed prices fell away gradually until little or nothing remained of the early rise. All ticker news and other despatches from Chicago were scanned with eager interest and the attempt upon Colonel Roosevelt's life overshadowed all other topics in the financial districts.

MISSOURI BANK ROBBERED.

Worth, Mo., Oct. 15.—Safe-blowers early today dynamited the safe of the bank of Worth, secured $1,700 in currency and escaped. Three explosions were heard by citizens but no importance was attached to them.

CARTHAGE WILL COME FRIDAY

TO MEET ILLINOIS ON LOCAL GRIDIRON.

Both College Elevens in Good Shape and Fast Game Expected—"Hill" Men Shown up Well in Practice and Confident of Victory.

Spurred on by their victory over the heavy Lincoln college team on last Friday, the Illinois players returned to the gridiron this week with energy and vim.

The annual clash between the Freshmen and Sophomores always interferes with practice. This year was no exception to the rule and as a result practice has been unsatisfactory during the last two evenings on account of the absence of some of the men. However, there have been enough men out for two teams and the field has been a busy scene each evening.

The game with Lincoln was a big disappointment in that it afforded practically no opportunity to judge of the merits of the individual players. The mud made play slow and eliminated all possibility of using the forward pass or resorting to open field tactics. The Illinois forwards invariably outcharged their heavier opponents and it is largely to that fact that the team owes its splendid showing.

Coach Harmon has been insisting upon fast and fierce charging and the players are gradually responding. There is, however, ample room for improvement. The men are also slowly improving in their blocking and interfering. Stewart is developing which carries well and is extremely difficult to catch. Tandy continues to drop kick most anywhere from a distance as far back as the 45 yard line. If the line can hold long enough to enable him to get the ball away he will be a dangerous man any place inside the 40 yard line. If the field is dry on Friday Carthage may be treated to a sample of his work. Although Carthage was snowed under last week by a large score the Illinois men are leaving nothing undone that will enable them to win. Every man came out of the Lincoln game in good physical condition and will be in excellent trim to meet Carthage.

Yesterday afternoon the varsity lined up against the scrubs for a short scrimmage and simply tore them to pieces. They romped up and down the field almost at will. Coach Harmon then shifted the varsity line to the scrubs and gave the scrub back field men an opportunity to carry the ball. They showed up well and at the end of the week they should be able to give Carthage a hard game. Today the varsity will line up for a practice game with the Tiger team from the Deaf and Dumb and after they have secured a good work out will probably give way to the scrubs. Then on Thursday afternoon a long, hard signal practice will be the finishing touch in preparation for Carthage college on Friday afternoon.

SHIP HOGS TO ILLINOIS.

As a sure sign of the scarcity of hogs in the very heart of the very best hog raising country on the map, there were bought here yesterday by the Jacksonville Packing company, of Jacksonville, Ill., two carloads of heavy hogs. This company buys cattle here every week, but this is the first hog purchase made.

GOOD WORK AT DOUGLAS INSTITUTE

Pupils and Teachers at This County School in Earnest Endeavor.

Go south across Big Sandy, turn to the right at the first road you come to, follow that as far as you can and then turn to the left and follow that road a little over a mile and you will land at Douglas Institute, a pretentious name for a good school.

The schoolhouse is a little off from the main traveled road and the writer had not come across it till his esteemed friend, Mrs. Currier, whom he had known for a good while as Miss Brown, daughter of James Brown, grocer and U. S. expressman, called his attention to the school and wanted to know why he had not visited it. He made apologies and a promise to call at his first opportunity and kept his word.

The building is at the end of a good sized lot, giving the children plenty of room for play and the building is well surrounded by good shade trees, which are fine and worthy of favorable mention. The men who set out those trees did a wise thing and if living should have a vote of thanks.

The visitor was cordially received by the amiable teacher, Miss Mary J. Mandeville, and made welcome. Her children are interesting little people and were very attentive to the address of the caller who told them something of foreign lands, showed them some pictures and told what he hopes was entertaining and instructive.

As usual he asked for questions and at first they were a bit shy, but soon overcame that and for a while the writer didn't know but Sherman school would have to look out for its laurels in the matter of questions, but Douglas Institute will have to take second place which is doing very well, indeed. They all showed much interest in what was said to them and were pleasant young people to visit.

The building is in good order and the stove and seats are in good shape. The maps are getting rather old and should be replaced with new ones, and some good pictures would look well on the walls. The charts are in good shape and in general there was an atmosphere of thrift about the place.

OPENING FUR DISPLAY

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY,
October 17th, 18th and 19th

This Will Be the GREATEST FUR EXHIBITION ever held in Jacksonville

SUCCESSFUL OPENING IN SPRINGFIELD

Springfield, Oct. 16.—Society was all agog Tuesday and Wednesday of this week when E. Jenkin, the Ladies' Tailor and Furrier, held a formal opening at the fine metropolitan store which he occupies on East Capitol avenue. Hundreds of ladies, eager to see the things which Dame Fashion has decreed in her edict to be ultra-fashionable for the season's wear, crowded the store from early morning until the very hour of closing.

At this formal opening Mr. Jenkin was assisted by Mr. Durlacher from one of the biggest and oldest New York Fur Houses who displayed for sale to Mr. Jenkin's customers the most beautiful array of fine furs which the writer has ever seen in this or any other city. It would be next to impossible to describe in mere words the rare beauty of the furs which were exhibited and many the words of praise which the writer heard for this extraordinary display.

Mr. Jenkin says that he always has on hand several thousand dollars worth of the best furs and his stock coupled with the sample line shown by Mr. Durlacher made a grand collection which was said to be worth about $36,000. And it certainly looked the part.

Judging by the number of sales which the writer saw made it was evident that a great many furs were sold on these two days and that the opening was a grand success in every way.

Mr. Durlacher says that while, as a rule, he does not show his line except in the larger cities yet, since he is an old friend of Mr. Jenkin, he is going from here to Jacksonville in order to assist Mr. Jenkin in the Grand Opening of his new store in that flourishing city.

BAD BREAKING OUT ON CHILD'S SCALP

Little White Lumps, Pimples Would Break and Run Matter, Itching and Burning. Hair Came Out in Bunches. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured. Also Made Hair Grow.

813 E. Second St., Muncie, Ind. — "My little girl had a bad breaking out on the scalp. It was little white lumps. The pimples would break out as large as a common pinhead all over her head. They would break and run yellow matter. She suffered nearly a year with itching and burning. It was sore and itched all the time. The matter that ran from her head was very thick. I did not comb her hair very often, her head was too sore to comb it, and when I did comb, it came out in bunches. Some nights her head itched so bad she could not sleep. I tried several different soaps and ointments, also patent medicine, but nothing could I get to stop it. I began using Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment this summer after I sent for the free samples. I used them and they did so much good I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and some Cuticura Ointment. I washed her head with Cuticura Soap and rubbed the Cuticura Ointment in the scalp every two weeks. A week after I had washed her head three times you could not tell she ever had a breaking out on her head. Cuticura Soap and Ointment also make the hair grow beautifully. I cannot say enough for them for they cured my little girl." (Signed) Mrs. Emma Patterson, Dec. 22, 1911. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston." Tender-faced men should use Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick, 25c. Sample free.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS

What make for comfort, convenience and economy and are up to—such are the resolutions to install gas in the home, as for lighting, heating and cooking. Certainly no intelligent woman today would be without gas unless they were could not be secured. As a matter of fact, people in the realize so fully its advantages that they have imitated it in their acetone plants, which are extremely costly. How small sum of $1.25 per room, you can have gas in. Why not see us today about this matter?

WEAK EXPORT DEMAND PULLS DOWN PRICES

Close of Wheat Market Was Never
Nervous at a Decline of 3 to 4 Cts.
Net.

(By Associated Press.)

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Falling off in export demand today pulled down the price of wheat. The close was never nervous at a decline of 3 to 4 cts. net. Latest trading left corn 1/2 down to a shade advance, oats 5/8 down to a sixteenth up, and provisions struggling between 2 1/2c lower and a rise of 17 1/2c.

Decided weakness in all European markets discouraged wheat owners here and caused rather free unloading at the start. Short sell also took a hand and there was heavy and heavy reports came that Serbia and Bulgaria would probably declare war before night. The upturn on account of this, however, was small in comparison with the early decline.
Bearish sentiment grew in part from the fact that receipts of wheat at primary terminals far exceeded those of a year ago.

December wheat ranged from 93 1/2 to 94 1/2, with latest transactions 94 1/2 a drop of 3/4c under last night. Fine weather and the weakness of wheat tended to ease off the corn market.
Selling though appeared to be overdone and there was a good deal of covering by shorts in the final hour.
December fluctuated between 52 1/2
@ 53c, and 53 1/2 @ 53 3/4c, closing steady, a shade lower at 53 1/2 @ 53 3/4c. Oats sagged with other grain and because export all most of the day was poor. Upper and lower levels touched by December were 33 1/2 and 32 1/2 with the close at the last named figure, a net loss of a shade.

Primeness in the hog market exerted greater influence on provisions than could be offset by the downward course of cereals. The best advance was for December lard,
17 1/2c.

NEW YORK STOCKS.
New York, Oct. 15.—Taking its cue from abroad, where all bourses were stronger as a result of a support tendered by substantial interests, the stock market here opened active and almost buoyant. Gains of 1 to 2 points were numerous in the first hour, these being extended in some instances at mid-day when interest centered largely in the metal issues.

In the final hour, however, a selling movement of moderate proportions wiped out the greater part of the early gains and the market closed with an irregular undertone. The setback coincided with advices from Chicago that the wound suffered by Colonel Roosevelt was a serious one.
The better showing of our securities in Europe was followed by some buying for these accounts in the course of the day, but this was more than neutralized by local realizing for profits.

The strength of the coppers was directly traceable to the sharp rebound in these metals abroad and to the belief that the directors of the Amalgamated Copper company at their meeting later this week will advance the present rate of dividend.
Respecting the situation in eastern Europe, international banking houses were in receipt of cables to the effect that negotiations now pending are likely to produce favorable results before the end of the week. Favorable reports regarding the Turco-Italian situation also had their effect.

Money was more abundant in this market today, much of the new supply coming from out of town sources. Nevertheless the tone held firm, with a slight advance in 90 day rates.

Pretty Mothers

Health is the foundation of all good looks. The wise woman realizes this and takes precautions to preserve her health and strength through the period of child bearing. She remains a pretty mother by avoiding as far as possible the suffering and dangers of such occasions. This every woman may do through the use of Mother's Friend, a remedy that has been so long in use, and accomplished so much good, that it is in no sense an experiment, but a preparation which always produces the best results. It is for external application and so penetrating in its nature as to thoroughly lubricate every muscle, nerve and tendon involved during the period before baby comes. It aids nature by expanding the skin and tissues, relieves tenderness and soreness, and perfectly prepares the system for natural and safe motherhood. Mother's Friend has been used and endorsed by thousands of mothers, and its use will prove a comfort and benefit to any woman in need of such a remedy. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for free book for expectant mothers, which contains much information.

AN OLD FASHIONED HIRED MAN.

A. J. Lovejoy, the Illinois Berkshire breeder and farmer, tells of once having a Swede hired man who was the best man he ever hired. "I put in 75 acres of corn that year and began to look around for another man to help Nels plow it. 'O, you don't need another man,' said Nels. 'Aye can do it alone.'"

"Well, it came time to plow and I had not been able to get another man, so Nels started in alone, anxious to make good. He got two teams ready in the morning, was in the field at 7 o'clock sharp, and kept at it steadily until noon. Then he took just a half hour to change teams and eat and was at it with the other team. It sounds big, but Nels covered that 75 acres four times in almost as many weeks, and very little corn did he cover. He was the most thoughtful fellow I ever had. We used well water to wash, and every time he went to get a pan of water he took the water pail and on the way in picked up an armful of wood.

"There was little waste motion in Nels' work. During harvest he had all the bundles in shock by the time I had the binder covered and ready to leave the field. I'd say: 'You're kill yourself working, Nels.' Then he'd laugh, jump up and crack his heels together and say he could do it all over again. Dirty clothes he disliked very much, so every night he washed his shirt and overalls, so as to have a fresh suit the next day. On holidays I would tell him he better go downtown and have a glass of beer with his friends. 'No, I don't want to spend my money,' Nels would reply. When he left me he had used hardly any of his wages. I told him he would be a rich man some day. 'Yaas, I bane goin' to Minnesota to buy me a farm,' he said, and today he owns one of the good farms in the state.—Prairie Farmer.

BOWELS BAD, LIVER TORPID? CASCARETS

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, get a 10 Cent Box of Cascarets—Take One Tonight.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have head-ache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil. This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, indigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The Senior Academy class at the Illinois Woman's college was most delightfully entertained Monday afternoon from 3 to 5 by the president, Miss Inez Pires at her home on North Main street. A great deal of amusement was afforded by a "Floral Love Tale" contest in which the prize, a potted plant, was won by Miss Rachel Norris. The remainder of the time was spent in acting out a number of clever charades. Delectable refreshments were served, Miss Pires being assisted in serving by Miss Winifred Robinson. The afternoon's entertainment closed with a marshmallow toast. The marshmallows were toasted over candles set in attractive little paper holders made in the class colors, black and gold.

The members of the class, who were present were: Miss McLaughlin class officer, and Misses Violet Taylor, Winifred Robinson, Arsh Dean Gottschall, Margaret Stump, Mary Laughlin, Elizabeth Tobill, Zelma Jones, Ruth Patton, Johanna Onken, Rachel Norris, and Inez Pires.

Tuesday afternoon a beautiful social event took place at Pisgah when Miss Elizabeth Wood gave a miscellaneous shower in honor of her niece, Mrs. Clara Ferguson Wood and her cousin, Mrs. Nellie Beekman Cox. The hours were from two to six and a very enjoyable time was had by all the ladies present. The time was passed in a social manner and fine music was furnished by Miss Mary Beekman and was of course excellent.

In due time the guests were invited to the dining room by Miss Bernice Wood and Mrs. Cox and they were pleased with the handsome decorations which were lovely ferns and cut flowers. On the table were a host of presents, elegant, curious, ingenious, humorous and useful and they elicited a deal of fun and admiration.

An elegant three course luncheon was served and much enjoyed by the fortunate guests, Miss Bernice Wood being the server of this feast. All were loud in their praises of the excellent menu and much merriment was indulged in over the presents and in general a delightful time was enjoyed. The ladies present were Mesdames Iven Wood, Isaac Wood, Walter Wood, Charles Wood, Otto Wood, Lizzie Wood, J. B. Beekman, William Beekman, George Beekman, Iven Cox, Geo. McKean, Earl Lukeman, Allen Spaenhower, George Wilson, Allen Ferguson, Fred Six and sister; Misses Elizabeth Wood, Mary Beekman, Florence Cox, Grace Lukeman, Eva Mortimer, Addie Rawlings, and three ladies from Alexander, Misses Frank, Grey, Ferguson.

The surprise was planned by their daughter, Miss Ethel Mann and Mrs. A. J. Bacon. The house was decorated in Halloween colors and the evening was spent in a pleasant manner. All the friends brought well filled baskets so that part of the program was also greatly enjoyed. Many good wishes were extended Mr. and Mrs. Mann, who have always made their home in this city and are held in much esteem.

The members of the Charity Circle, a Sunday school class of the Central Christian church, gave a benefit program at Scott's theater Tuesday night. Aside from the regular program of splendid pictures, two college songs were given by Misses Irene Scott, Dorothy Weber, Helen Obermeyer and Irene Smith. GREENE COUNTY FAIR Large Crowds in Attendance at Carrollton-Aviator Lillie Flew From St. Louis to Fair Grounds.

The first day's program of the Greene county fair at Carrollton started off with a big attendance. The feature of the day was the flight of Aviator Lillie. He left the St. Louis Aero club grounds at 9:45 and reached the Carrollton grounds at 11:30. He stopped at Jerseyville at 11:05 and the school of that place was dismissed, in order that the children might see the flight. Lillie gave an exhibition flight circling the home of Congressman Rainey. He will make two flights a day and on Friday afternoon will go back to St. Louis. Congressman Rainey entertained the directors of the fair and Aviator Lillie at a 12 o'clock dinner yesterday.

The races were well matched Tuesday. The 2:12 pace and the one-half mile run were called off on account of darkness. In the 2:23 trot, first money went to Destyn and second money was divided between Harold and Ora Patch. Third money went to J. H. McClaren and fourth position to Noretta H. The fastest time was 2:24 1-2 and the purse was for $400.

They were much chagrined the next morning when they saw the "Soph" colors, red and white, at the point of the pole, colors that had also been put up the night before. EUROPE REJOICES OVER PEACE PACT Agreement Between Italy and Turkey Will Localize Balkan Situation—Complications Will Be Fewer.

Paris, Oct. 15.—Elation is general in the Chancelleries of Europe to night on the success of their efforts to induce Turkey to conclude peace with Italy. Pressure has been applied at Constantinople by all the great powers except Italy, for it was realized that the end of the conflict would greatly improve the chances of localizing the war in the Balkans. It eliminates complications which were almost certain to arise had Italy carried the war into Europe.

Quarrel Must Be Fought Out.
With Italy once more neutral, the European concert is again intact, with increased power to deal with the final settlement of near East questions. It is universally conceded that the position of the Ottoman empire has been enormously strengthened against the Balkan coalition. It is also felt, however, that Bulgaria has gone too far to retract and the fortunes of Serbia and Greece are so bound in hers that the quarrel must be fought out. France is sounding the powers relative to calling an international conference to settle the Balkan difficulty and in a general way to solidify the peace of Europe by forestalling any possibilities of European complications.
